QUEER PLANET DEBUNKED!

Original Air Date: 05.18.24

Segment.01 Hello. I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor of the Lighthouse Baptist Church in Santa Maria, CA, and your brain masseur. Get ready for your brain massage.

Have you seen or heard of NBC's latest dive into the depths of Satan: Queer Planet?¹ Are all things "natural" to be automatically accepted as appropriate? Stay tuned; you are going to hear a Biblical response to NBC's Queer Planet. It's gonna blow your mind!

Then there is this thing circulating, again, about Homosexuality in the New Testament.² It's there, alright! But if you're queer, you aren't going to like it!

The House Judiciary Committee holds Atty Garland in contempt for refusing to comply with a subpoena demanding release of the audio tapes of the Robert Hur³ interview with Biden.⁴ Why does the Committee want the audio tapes, they already have the transcript? Hmmm. This is verdy interestingk!

Okay, my friends, it's time for your Brain Massage®!

[TRUTH]

I have an announcement regarding the Brain Massage radio show. This station will be shuttering very soon, perhaps as early as the end of this month. We will continue airing on Crazy Country 105.9 FM. I'm waiting for air times, but I expect we can keep the Sunday 7 AM spot. I'm waiting to hear what will happen with our Saturday noon spot. I'll announce it as soon as possible. Also, this station will be running ads letting you know where and when. Call the station with any questions you have about why the current owners of Knight Broadcasting are getting out of the radio business, but I think it goes to we lost Sean Knight to a fatal hang-gliding accident a few years ago.

How about we buy KUHL? I'm looking into the financials and exploring that possibility. If you want to talk with me about this, contact me by email in the simplest way possible, and then we can arrange a place and time to meet. Go to the official Brain Massage® show website: brainmassage.net. Click on the Contact button in the menu. Fill in the form and click Submit.

If you want The Brain Massage® show delivered to your inbox, take one more step. Go back up to the menu bar under the logo and click on SUBSCRIBE FREE. The only required field is the email address that you want us to use to send the show to you. Click GET MY BRAIN MASSAGE. You're subscribed.

KUHL is being sold, and I'd like to buy it! If you think that's a good idea, let me know. Go to brainmassage.net, click on CONTACT, and email your thoughts about this idea to me today.

Have you seen or heard of NBC's latest dive into the depths of Satan? It's a documentary called Queer Planet?⁵

Does the fact that homosexuality occurs in nature make it natural?

Besides, are all things "natural" to be regarded as socially acceptable? NBC has put together the Queer's latest effort to "prove" we should all embrace homosexuality as "normal," by attempting to prove it's "natural." That "everything you were told as a child is wrong!"⁶

I enjoy a large number of Christian Patriots who follow this program, for which I am deeply grateful! In fact, I'm grateful for all my audience! Thank you! Whether you are headed for heaven or hell, including those who think they are headed nowhere, or whatever, I'm glad you're here. And, I find very often those who don't believe in the Bible, as I do, are nevertheless interested in what it says — so how does a Christian answer this slick propaganda hit piece on our Christian and traditionally American values?

I think we should begin with their argument. The NBC produced documentary is narrated by actor Andrew Rannells.

Gay penguins, bi-sexual lions, sex-changing clown-fish, the thesis stated: "This is a Queer planet." "Queerness has always existed; it's only in humans that we have such a stigma about it." Their strongest statement emoji: "The idea of just having two fixed sexes is clearly (but, you have to say it right; let's see: clearrlee) out of style. How'd I do? Soon they'll provide mandatory Queer speech classes and they'll pass a law that requires everybody to talk Queer throughout Queer Pride month — what is that, by the way?

⁵ 986.2.2- Queer Planet" will be released in June. The documentary by NBC is focused on "LGBTQI+ tolerance" among the animal kingdom... No, this is not satire. <https://t.co/sf9ES6bXuG> / X <https://twitter.com/EndWokeness/status/1791159876967624784>

⁶ <https://twitter.com/EndWokeness/status/1791159876967624784>

But their scientific argument is simple: it's natural, see, it happens in nature. So!

No further argument is thought necessary. I mean, beyond presenting every example they can find or contrive to support the thesis, but that's all they need! It happens in nature, so it's natural. They got you!

“Mother nature is pretty open-minded.” “Sex is not just for reproduction.” “No matter where you look on our planet, nature is full of queer surprises.” Then, the final appeal, a statement intended to have the broadest possible appeal with the greatest amount of shock value — a sort of let me bust through your prudish hangups and fears about sexuality: “To be honest, we should all probably get laid a little more than we do.” Hmmm. Even the Parrot that followed this guy's statement was, like, huh?

There is much truth revealed in all these statements.

Mother nature is pretty open-minded! Uh, actually, no! Nature punishes homosexual behavior brutally: gay men are in the highest risk group for several of the most serious diseases, most notably, HIV.⁷ Back in 2013, I was very concerned about this and did a deep dive study to verify whether it was true that homosexuals suffer sex-related diseases more than heterosexuals. I can't take the time to relate the results of that study here, but I've attached a link to my summary of what I found: Negative Impacts of Homosexual Behaviour,⁸ Homosexuals Unhealthy Lifestyle,⁹ and Homosexual

Behavior A National Public Health Issue.¹⁰ And this presents only three of at least 25 that I've collected. There are a great many more. CDC tells us the homosexual community is represented by 67% of HIV-diagnosed cases. Every serious study of homosexual representation in the general population comes out to about 3%. About 3% of the population contributes 67% of the cases. Do the math. The relative practices of the typical homosexual as compared to the typical heterosexual reveal an obsession with sex that is clinically unhealthy, both physically and psychologically.¹¹ Some of their behaviors are extremely dangerous and unseemly to anyone with normal sensitivities.¹² Much of this falls into the category of what they do in darkness: "For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret."¹³ Sadly, the same people who screamed at us to "stay out of their bedroom" are putting what they demanded was their right in the privacy of their bedrooms on public display — and exposing our children to their shameful behavior. You've seen some of these so-called Gay Pride Parades. Not even the most notorious fact-checkers could deny this report.¹⁴

This suggests that Mother Nature does not approve of this behavior. Clearly, it is not blessed with reproduction. As for the second point, that sex is not only about reproduction, all that needs to be said is that whether you view our existence as the product of some evolutionary process or the act of a Creator — sex is the only means by which the species Homo sapiens continues. Sex was designed to procreate. Whether that's its only purpose is moot! Without it is no one! It's like arguing, hey, food is not only for maintaining life; it's also fun to eat. Clearly, it's fun to eat, so we will eat. Eating merely for the pleasure of it clearly leads to a great many diseases and problems. Point made!

Unfortunately, I am limited by time. The other two arguments are equally insipid. Not in terms of cleverness; no one ever accused the devil of being dull. But insipid in this, empty of compelling argument, shallow of anything like substantive thought, or proof!

Take, for example, the argument that “nature is full of queer surprises.” Okay! I'll take it on. First, if you doubled the number of queer surprises that may be found, or contrived—much of these queer observations are contrived into examples of human homosexuality, but, let's stay with one point! If you doubled the number of queer surprises, they would nevertheless qualify as “surprises” because they are outside the NORM. What makes them “surprising” is the fact that they are unusual, bizarre, weird, even outlandish, abnormal, puzzling, mystifying — by the way — all synonyms for Queer — just sayin'. To be clear, that's what the word Queer means!

And friend, the exception never disproves a rule. The saying goes like this: the exception proves the rule. The fact that it's exceptional means it's not the usual. Okay! Pile on the “exceptions,” multiply the “surprises,” they are exceptions and surprises precisely because they are not the NORM!

As for the last shot, suggesting we all need more “laid time,” I doubt it. It might be a good idea if our young people were not surrounded by encouragement to be obsessed with sex and rather surrounded with influences that were more in line with preparing them to be ready for the responsibilities of marriage and family. Help understanding that while sex has its place, it's God's precious marriage gift, it must never displace everything else, and most certainly, it must NOT be detached or separated from its most precious function — CHILDREN and FAMILY. At least not until nature has run its course.

So, what do we say to such profound logic? Hehe. We are obliged to “give an answer” regarding our faith! How do we answer this argument from “nature”?

Hold on! I’ll be right back!

Segment.02 Hello. Welcome back! I’m Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor at the Lighthouse, your brain masseur, and Paul Revere’s lantern lighter, lighting the lamps in the church belfry arch, signaling the enemy is on the march, an enemy that would steal from us our liberty.

In the first segment, I laid out the argument presented in NBC's trailer for their newly released documentary: Queer Planet. Essentially, the argument is that because we find occasions of same-sex attraction and activity in nature, it is, therefore, a natural behavior. On this ground it might be argued that the nature of beasts to steal, murder, and forcibly rape and dominate a female, or the naturally occurring phenomenon of the black widow devouring her mate after mating, or the naturally occurring phenomenon of mother abandonment—snakes,¹⁵ for example, abandon their offspring at birth. Pandas usually have twins, and momma panda selects only one to nurture. The other is abandoned. [IBID].

Many of the examples presented in NBC's documentary, Queer Planet, are behaving within the nature of that creature, but totally inconsistent with human nature. Human nature and animal nature do not in all points correspond. A clownfish does not need a surgeon to change its sex. It happens with the nature of the clownfish. Human males pretending to have transformed themselves into females most certainly look clownish. But that's as close as they will ever get to mimicking artificially what the clownfish does naturally.

Okay, looks like I'm only going to have time for this point today — so let's finish up by presenting the biblical answer to NBC's Queer Planet.

Apparently, the Queer community cares about what the Bible says about homosexuality because they spend a considerable amount of time trying to prove it doesn't say it! I will address the question of

¹⁵ <https://animals.mom.com/animals-mothers-abandon-after-birth-9940.html>

New Testament prohibitions against homosexuality during Sunday evening service for my Issachar Report. Sunday night, 5 PM.

What is our response to Queer Planet. In addition to what I've brought forward already:

First, Paul, by the Spirit, said it is AGAINST NATURE.¹⁶ I've pointed out that animal nature does not model human nature. We are often instructed to consider the animals for characteristics we might admire, but nowhere does the Bible say, hey, check out that dog humping the male dog; wink, wink! In fact, Christians who feed themselves on the lusts of this world are likened to dogs that eat their own vomit or pigs that, having been washed, seek to return to the slime and muck.

Besides, the rare incidence of this particular behavior in “nature” does not make it “natural.” It's unusual, even in the animal kingdom. And it is strictly forbidden in the human kingdom.

Men and beasts are not of the “same nature.” Men are created in God's image and likeness, not in beasts' image and likeness.

Men acting like “brute beasts” is never a compliment; definitely not encouraged.

However, inclinations of nature can be environmentally conditioned and distorted. A guy once told me about a shark that was trained to behave contrary to its nature. By putting a barrier between it and a hunk of meat so that when it acted on its natural instinct to charge the hunk of meat, it banged its nose against the glass. This happened repeatedly until the glass barrier could be removed, and the shark was conditioned to ignore the meat when dropped on the other side of the tank.

¹⁶ Romans 1:26-27 - “For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet.”

Now, happily, you are not a shark. You are a human being. You don't have to accept the effort of the Queer agenda to condition you to distort your nature.

Now, think about this! God connected the entire creation to man — so that when man fell, THE ENTIRE CREATION GROANS and TRAVAILS waiting for the adoption, “to wit” the “redemption of our body” (Romans 8:19-25). The link between mankind and animalkind, and in fact, to the entirety of God's creation, is profound. Listen to this!

“Romans 8:19 For the earnest expectation of the creature (the living thing created by GOD) waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God.

Romans 8:20 For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope,

Romans 8:21 Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

Romans 8:22 For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now. (Notice that now we are talking about the impact subjecting the creature to vanity had on CREATION.)

Romans 8:23 And not only they, but ourselves also, (See here that there is a clear differentiation between “they” the creatures of creation, and us, the creature made in His image and likeness) which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.”

Catch this! Think about it!

God created all things, including men and women, according to His design. He placed man over all creation, connecting all creation to the fate of mankind. When man fell, his body was corrupted, and that in some mysterious way impacted all of physical creation. God set forward a plan to redeem man. Christ's death on the cross provides the atonement needed. When we believe on Him, confessing He is Lord and risen from the dead, and call on His name to receive His free gift of eternal life, our soul is REDEEMED, and He puts His Spirit in us to secure this body to Him until the day He redeems His purchased possession. What, know you not that your body is the Temple of the Holy Ghost, and ye are not your own, for you are bought with a price. Therefore, glorify God in your spirit and in your body, which are God's.¹⁷ His Spirit is the "earnest of the purchased possession"; you know what earnest is, right? You secure a property to yourself with earnest money until you can occupy it. In GOD's case, He occupies the body by His Spirit which is His earnest securing it as His property until the day he comes to REDEEM it.

When He REDEEMS it, He will transform the vile body into the likeness of Christ's glorious body—see Philippians 3:20-21. This is the redemption of the purchased possession—and when that happens, the entire creation will be impacted in amazing ways. Some manifestations will be seen in the animal kingdom, when the lion lays down with the lamb, and the lion says to the lamb, as he is chewing grass, hey, this ain't bad! Meanwhile, the children are safely playing in the same pasture with the cockatrice (viper) without fear. And that just gets us started!

The aberrations we find in nature are a manifestation of the groaning and travailing of the entire creation waiting for man's fall to be redeemed.

The House Judiciary Committee held Atty Garland in contempt for failing to comply with a subpoena to release audio tapes of the Robert Hur²⁰ interview with Biden.²¹ Remember, the transcript of their confessions of Biden during his Interview with the the Special Counsel investigating the Biden document probe is what the DOJ admitted PROVED Biden broke the law — however, because Biden was an old, feeble man with a nice disposition, they would not prosecute the case. Now the House Judiciary Committee wants the audio — they have reason to believe the transcript was not complete. The left is in full panic; the Biden Admin is apoplectic! Hmmm! I guess releasing the “doctored”? transcript admitting Biden did break the law regarding the handling of classified documents was a cover — I think they hoped that would give the RINOs enough to keep the MAGA meat eaters busy howling about the unfairness of the “two tiered Demoncrat Justice system” so they would quit exploring this crime. Apparently, getting those audios is critical to getting JUSTICE against Beelzebulb-Biden, who is doubling down against releasing the audio. He is claiming “executive privilege.” Only 1. he has no executive privilege covering
